

Thyroid Disorders

Almost everyone can benefit from compounded medication

The thyroid function is complex and controls many metabolic functions. Treatment of conditions affecting the thyroid and immune system disorders is highly personalized. Compounding provides individualized medication to optimize the treatment of your thyroid conditions.

Thyroid conditions, like hypothyroidism, are extremely prevalent universally. Treatment can help minimize both short-term and long-term side effects. The consequences of discontinuing your thyroid medicine can sometimes be subtle right at first, but the physical impact of stopping will become apparent in a short period of time. We promote continuous care for our thyroid treatments by following up with prescribers for refills, and we encourage patients to follow up with their physician to assess the need for dose adjustments. Our thyroid medications help patients bring their thyroid hormones back to regular levels, alleviating many of the following symptoms:

- Fatigue
- Hypotension
- Fluid Retention
- Constipation
- Headaches
- Low Sexual Desire
- Irregular Menstrual Periods
- Aching Muscles and Joints
- Depression Anxiety
- Slowed Metabolism
- Enlarged Tongue
- Swollen Neck
- Weight Gain

Complications Related to the Thyroid May Include:

- Mood
- Weight gain or loss
- Insomnia
- Immune functions
- Cognitive processes
- Digestive irregularity
- Cardiovascular health

Customized compounds promote positive outcomes while minimizing side effects. We send out both our ingredients used to make the capsules and the capsules themselves for quality assurance testing to monitor that the correct dose is being compounded. Every prescription is made to each patient-specific order here at our pharmacy in Palm Beach Gardens, FL by our licensed and experienced compounding pharmacy team.
