Almost everyone can benefit from compounded medication

Peripheral neuropathy is a complication that can be caused by diabetes and gradually worsen over time, but it may also be brought on by injuries, infections, or with age.

Symptoms of peripheral neuropathy might include:

- Subtle numbness, prickling, or tingling of the hands or feet
- Tingling sensations that spread upward into the legs and arms
- Sharp, jabbing, throbbing or burning pain
- Extreme sensitivity to touch
- Pain during activities that shouldn't cause pain
- Lack of coordination and falling
- Muscle weakness
- Feeling as if you're constantly wearing gloves or socks

- Limited mobility

We offer customized pain-relieving creams and oral therapies that help manage neuropathy symptoms and improve quality of life. It's also important to treat conditions that may cause worsening neuropathy. Please contact with any questions about our prescription neuropathy offerings.

Thank you for allowing us to be a part of your therapeutic, healthful regimen. If you have further questions, please contact us.
